

APPAM

POLICY — ON THE — ROCKS

Policy on the Rocks is an event series that brings our community together to connect, network, and exchange ideas in a relaxed setting.

Over drinks and hors d'oeuvres, participants hear from leading experts on today's most pressing public policy and management challenges. Hosted at the Washington, D.C. metro area offices of APPAM institutional members, Policy on the Rocks was created to foster face-to-face interaction and meaningful networking opportunities.

Interested in Hosting?

Hosting Requirements:

- Must be an APPAM institutional member. Unsure? Check here
- Event space for a panel with seating for 100 attendees
- Adjacent or nearby reception area
- Onsite A/V with technical staff
- Complimentary space rental
- Metro or public transportation accessible

APPAM covers all direct expenses, including catering, staffing, cleaning, and other reasonable costs. Since the event is free to attendees, we work to keep expenses modest. Hosts collaborate with APPAM staff and Policy Council representatives to shape content, recruit speakers, and market the event. APPAM manages registration, program logistics, and on-site operations.

Unable to Host? Be a Sponsor Instead!

Sponsorship is a great way to connect with 100+ policy researchers and practitioners across the D.C. metro area. Each Policy on the Rocks event offers up to two sponsorship opportunities: $2,000 each for APPAM institutional members ($2,500 for non-members).

Sponsors receive prominent branding, recognition in all event materials, a display table, and the opportunity to welcome attendees personally.

For more information, contact Samantha Oliver Thomason at soliver@appam.org.