

2018 Equity & Inclusion Fellowship Deadline Fast Approaching

As part of APPAM's commitment to an inclusive public policy field, the Equity & Inclusion Fellowship supports the participation of up to 40 students from traditionally underrepresented backgrounds at the Fall Research Conference.

The goal of this program is to introduce recipients to the world of public policy and APPAM, and foster lifelong engagement. While at the conference, fellows will have the opportunity to formally network with each other, engage in mentoring activities, and meet members of the APPAM Policy Council and Diversity Committee.

“Being a fellow was an eye-opening experience because I had the ability to learn about different research topics from a variety of fields that were new to me. The diversity of presentations encouraged me to do two impactful things: draw parallels to the research I am currently doing and hear how presenters and audience members made sense of challenging topics, which helped my own understanding of the issue.

Ashley Causey-Golden, Columbia University, 2017 Fellow

Fellows receive the following:

- 2018 Fall Research Conference registration.
- An additional $599 to offset the cost of transportation, as well as meals during the conference.
- Two nights' accommodations at the Washington Marriott Wardman Park (November 8-10, 2018).
- A formal luncheon and networking reception special events.

Application details:

- Completed questionnaire found at www.APPAM.org/2018-fellowship.
- CV or resume.
- 750-word statement on your academic training, goals, why attending the 2018 conference is important to your professional development, and how you see yourself contributing to the APPAM community.
- Letter of recommendation from a professor.

Apply at www.APPAM.org/2018-fellowship